

Reference on Pete Ciaccio, DBA Ken Brooke Roofing

I've known Pete Ciaccio for the last 12 years through distribution. He has worked for some of our larger customers and has now ventured out into the business on his own. We've established credit with Pete and have had no issues forming a great business vendor relationship. He pays for his material within terms and from the work we've sold since he has started his business we've had no complaints from his homeowners or business owners.

If there are any questions I can answer for I can be reached at
